Sir:

This letter is in response to the Office communication mailed August 16, 2005, in which the office of Patent Publication/Publishing Division sent a notice of drawing inconsistency with specification. The inconsistency is that Figure 8 was contained in the drawings and main body of the specification, but not listed in the Brief Description of the drawings. Applicant was required to correct this inconsistency.

To correct this inconsistency, please correct/amend the "Brief Description of the drawings" portion of the specification to add a brief description for figure 8. This brief description is as follows:

8: Use of a programming device to transmit data to a programmable electronic time-temperature indicator.
